KEEPING YOUR HERBS FRESH

Want to extend the life of your fresh herbs? Follow these simple storage methods:

Refrigerate

Loosely wrap herbs in a damp paper towel. Place in a tightly sealed container or reusable bag. Keep in the fridge. Replace water every few days.

Freeze

Chop fresh herbs into small pieces. Add water to ice cube trays and freeze. Store frozen cubes in another container for easy use.

Dry

Store in airtight containers. Keep in a cool, dry, dark place, away from light and heat. Dried herbs retain flavor and color for up to one year in the fridge or freezer.

Helpful Tips

- Wash herbs under cool running water to remove debris.
- Use a salad spinner to remove excess water.
- Cover herbs with a plastic bag or deli container lid to limit oxygen exposure.
- Save chopping for just before use to keep herbs fresh.

FRESH NO PRESERVATIVE
FRUIT

Fresh, no preservative fruit delivers better quality than other pre-cut fruit offerings with better food safety, consistency, and cost effectiveness than on-premise cutting.
